One of the most important decisions you need to make concerning your under-age children is who will become their guardian if you were to die before they were 18. Even after 18 years old, it is still important to designate someone who can help provide godly counsel, wisdom, prayer, and care for their life and their choices. It will be helpful to consider each child individually, as well as the family unit, when it comes to guardianship issues. It is usually best to appoint a few choices in order of your preference, in case a desired guardian is unavailable or unable to serve in this important role. In addition to family considerations, it is important to identify potential guardians who share similar spiritual and personal beliefs.
